

Tonoa Bond: Guiding clients to make the mindset and inner game shifts that unleash their potential while shattering the limits of their destiny.

"Boldness is a pre-requisite to changing your mindset and stepping fully into the life of your dreams. But you can't be bold if you don't know who you are." ~ Tonoa Bond

Who is Tonoa Bond? She is the mindset coach and human behavior expert for athletes, entertainers and intrepid visionaries who rely on her as their secret weapon for unleashing their potential, fulfilling their destinies, and remaining spotlight ready while being as bold and audacious as possible. Tonoa is also a speaker, author, hypnotherapist, image consultant and Army Veteran. She possesses a master's degree, summa cum laude, in leadership coaching psychology, a post-graduate certification (honors) in applied forensic psychology, and is working on a PhD in general psychology with a focus on the situational factors that cause human behavior. Affectionately known as the "Audacity Expert", she helps clients to develop a shameless boldness in pursuit of their purpose, and an arrogant disregard for what others may believe is possible, so they can live their dreams in a bigger, better, and bolder way! She discovers the behavior behind the actions of individuals and teams and empowers them to Unleash the Beast within; to learn the key elements of how both mindset and mental conditioning affects their actions, choices and results so they can achieve positive and successful experiences in every area of their lives. Her mindset conditioning and peak performance program, Unleash the Beast Within, has gained interest from NFL sports franchises who understand the value of helping their teams to unleash their potential and live their lives to the fullest; both on and off the field. Tonoa believes that high performers are called to boldly and audaciously provide others with proof that their actions can change the world. And she believes that this applies to you, your group or team as well!
